Hi Janice,

Thank you for reaching out. Kevin Orellana is our Senior Enforcement Manager over the team that responds to complaints and conducts inspections at All American Asphalt. I've included him in this response. We can schedule a meeting to discuss the information that you're requesting. We also updated our website with information on this investigation. You can access the dedicated webpage by clicking on this link: <http://www.aqmd.gov/home/news-events/community-investigations/air-sampling-initiative>

Let me know if you'd like to schedule a meeting. We can coordinate our calendars and set something up.

Thank you
Victor

Hi Victor,

I had reached out to Terrence about this issue last week. I understand he forwarded my message to the Jason Aspell. Jason and Catherine Rodriguez got back to me with permits. Terrence may have also forwarded my message to others, since he is understandably busy through the end of this week. Would you be the person I should talk with about All American Asphalt, or should I speak with someone else?

I'd like to check with you regarding the history the ongoing complaints, air monitoring activities, and public meetings associated with the facility and its operations – all in order to gain an understanding about the activities going on with All American Asphalt and its permits for equipment in various locations.

Please let me know if you or anyone else can provide some information. If it's better to schedule a meeting to discuss, I'd appreciate that as well.

Thank you,
Janice

Hi Terrence,

EPA received the forwarded complaint about All American Asphalt.

The address provided by the complainant does not result in a location that I can find or match with All American Asphalt. However, I can see in the South Coast AQMD website that the AQMD has been addressing this issue for a while now.

Regarding the concern by the citizen regarding All American Asphalt working overtime and into the evening, I'd like to look at the facility's operating permit. Can you please the facility's permit? I couldn't find it in the AQMD website. So thank you in advance. I'd like to see the facility's permit conditions regarding emissions limits and hours of operation to see whether the complainant's claims about working into the evening may substantiate potential noncompliance.

If it would be helpful to have a discussion, I am available to talk about how the odor and emissions concerns are being handled. I can see from the history of the facility that the complaints and air monitoring have be complex and substantial.

Thank you,
Janice

Dear Kim Scott,

Thank you for reaching out. With this email I am forwarding to our Assistant Director, Claire Trombadore, and Air Enforcement Supervisor, Janice Chan, to look into this issue. I am sorry to hear you and your neighbors are dealing with such terrible smells. Odors issues are in general very challenging issues for EPA if a facility is in compliance. That being said our team will look into this concern and talk to AQMD and get back with you.

Regards,

Good morning Ms. Miller,

My name is Kimberly Scott and I live in Irvine, CA.

I was wondering if you could help me on how to best escalate our community concerns about strong asphalt smell in the air emitting from an Asphalt company down the street.

We have put in hundreds of complains about strong Asphalt smells that are close to the new community Irvine built. Our community has been built for 5 years and unfortunately, we were not aware of a large Asphalt company that is up the hill from our neighborhood.

When we moved in we smelled a strong plume of asphalt. The city of Irvine and AQMD have responded to our complaints initially.

It seems the solution is for the Asphalt company to run at night to avoid the complaints but now the asphalt smell has intensified so much it wakes us up at night. The trucks also come down the hill in a caravan with the asphalt so it's clockwork when the asphalt smell comes.

The city of Irvine has encouraged us to report to the AQMD. I have been called by them in the past to substantiate my complaints or get more info.

Now, they have stopped returning any of our calls.

I was wondering how do we best escalate the concern about the asphalt smell? We are concerned the solution they have to work overtime in the evening may be out of compliance.

They have had issues with compliance in the past:

The company is called All American Asphalt :

Thank you for reading my long email-I am so thankful and appreciative of your time.

Take Care,

Kimberly Scott
